Regulations Governing the Yushan Academic Award of the College of Management, National Chung Cheng University

Article 1. To pursue academic excellence and reward College faculty members who publish research achievements in top journals, the College of Management, National Chung Cheng University (hereinafter, the College) establishes these Regulations pursuant to the Guidelines for Application for the Yushan Academic Award.

Article 2. A Yushan Academic Award Review Committee shall be established to review and select award recipients. The Committee shall consist of six members: the Dean and one faculty representative nominated by each department. The Dean shall serve as convener. Nominated members serve a one-year term and may be reappointed. A member who is also a nominee shall recuse from the relevant review.

Article 3. Eligible candidates are full-time faculty members and project faculty members of the College who have published works in top journals specified in the Guidelines for Application for the Yushan Academic Award, as listed in the attached journal lists.

Article 4. An application shall include the following materials and, after preliminary review by the department or degree program, shall be submitted to the Review Committee by the end of March each year: 1. A research work published in or accepted by a journal on the Yushan Academic Award journal list; if accepted but not yet published, the journal acceptance letter shall be attached. 2. An application form, as provided in the Appendix.

The research work specified above shall meet all of the following requirements: 1. It was publicly published or accepted after September 1, 2025 (ROC 114). 2. It is research in nature, such as an Article, Research Article, or Research Note. Correspondence, Review, book review, correction, reply, editorial, and letter to the editor are not eligible. 3. The publication states that it received support or sponsorship from the Yushan Academic Award. 4. The work has not previously received the Yushan Academic Award or another paper-related award or incentive from the University.

Article 5. If an applicant violates the preceding requirements, or if application materials are found to have been forged or false, the award qualification shall be revoked, all awards already received shall be recovered, and relevant responsibility shall be pursued according to the nature and severity of the violation.

Article 6. Award amounts are as follows: 1. Sole author: NT$1,000,000. 2. Multiple authors: NT$700,000 per eligible applicant; however, the total award for a single research work is capped at NT$1,500,000. If more than two applicants apply for the same work, the total award shall be divided equally among the applicants. Any taxes, supplementary National Health Insurance premiums, or other charges arising from the award shall be borne by the recipient. Award funds are donated by E.SUN Commercial Bank, Ltd. and the E.SUN Foundation.

Article 7. Each year, recipients who pass review shall be reported to the donors for record before the Yushan Academic Award is conferred. Recipients shall publicly share their research results.

Article 8. The implementation period of these Regulations shall be limited to the term of the agreement executed between the College, E.SUN Commercial Bank, Ltd., and the E.SUN Foundation.

Article 9. Matters not provided for herein shall be handled in accordance with the Guidelines for Application for the Yushan Academic Award.

Article 10. These Regulations shall take effect from the date of promulgation after approval by the College Affairs Meeting and the University Endowment Fund Management Committee. The same procedure shall apply to amendments.
